WRJ Pacific District Scholarship Guidelines

The Scholarship Committee will regularly review applications as they are submitted. Scholarships will be available to individuals and Sisterhoods/women's groups for the District, WRJ events, and some URJ events that promote and support PD goals and initiatives, as resources allow. The goal is to allow you to enhance your leadership skills and to further your connections to the District and WRJ.

An application will be required and must be submitted online at:

https://www.wrjpacific.org/district-scholarships.html

Scholarship Requirements & Guidelines:

- Recipient (individual, Sisterhood, or women's group) must be an affiliated/member of the Women of Reform Judaism, in good standing, with current dues paid.
- Scholarships are based on financial need. Check with your own Sisterhood or women's group first, before making an application.
- Scholarships will be awarded as equitably as possible with the available funds.
- Scholarships can be applied to registration, travel, and lodging.
- The scholarship can be a supplement to any other funding, if available.
- Recipient must attend the entire event and all of its programming.
- After the event, recipient must make a report back to her Sisterhood/women's group, or if an individual member, to the District VP Membership.
- Scholarships for transportation and hotel will be paid to the applicant after the event. Receipts together with the District reimbursement voucher (on the website under Resources) should be submitted to the PD treasurer.
- Scholarships for registration for the District Convention will be paid by the District Treasurer when granted.
- For WRJ events, any scholarships awarded will be reimbursed to the applicant after the event, and after receipts have been sent to the PD treasurer, along with the reimbursement voucher.
- Scholarships may be split to be used by more than one woman
- Receipt of previous scholarships do not disqualify you from applying again.
- If you are not able to attend the event, let the Scholarship Committee and the event registrar know immediately.
- Refunds will be subject to the refund policy for that specific event.

Please contact Ellen Bick at scholarships.wrjpd@gmail.com if you have any questions.